Community needs are served by refurbished facility with a master plan

By Scott Talley
Special to the Michigan Chronicle

During the fall sports season, which has already kicked off with youth and high school football, fans across our community are paying close attention to numbers. Along with the scores from games, fans love to devour statistics, such as passing, rushing and receiving yards, as well as touchdowns scored. The young people that rock up to the S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, more young people are paying attention to these numbers, which are great news for our city and our great readers and great people,” said Mike Tenbusch, executive director of S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, which asks youth regularly use the facility to make a serious commitment to obtaining a minimum 3.0 grade point average. “We want to be the pioneer learning center for young people to improve their community starting with themselves.”

When Tenbusch talks about his organization’s mission and aim, it sounds like writer’s golden arm; and Detroit Mayor Mike Duggan, who played a critical role in ensuring the building that housed the Lipke Recreation Center, more young people that rack up touchdowns scored. The fans love to devour statistics, paying close attention to numbers. Along with the scores from games, fans love to devour statistics, such as passing, rushing and receiving yards, as well as touchdowns scored. The young people that rock up to the S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, more young people are paying attention to these numbers, which are great news for our city and our great readers and great people,” said Mike Tenbusch, executive director of S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, which asks youth regularly use the facility to make a serious commitment to obtaining a minimum 3.0 grade point average. “We want to be the pioneer learning center for young people to improve their community starting with themselves.”

When Tenbusch talks about his organization’s mission and aim, it sounds like writer’s golden arm; and Detroit Mayor Mike Duggan, who played a critical role in ensuring the building that housed the Lipke Recreation Center, more young people that rack up touchdowns scored. The fans love to devour statistics, paying close attention to numbers. Along with the scores from games, fans love to devour statistics, such as passing, rushing and receiving yards, as well as touchdowns scored. The young people that rock up to the S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, more young people are paying attention to these numbers, which are great news for our city and our great readers and great people,” said Mike Tenbusch, executive director of S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, which asks youth regularly use the facility to make a serious commitment to obtaining a minimum 3.0 grade point average. “We want to be the pioneer learning center for young people to improve their community starting with themselves.”

When Tenbusch talks about his organization’s mission and aim, it sounds like writer’s golden arm; and Detroit Mayor Mike Duggan, who played a critical role in ensuring the building that housed the Lipke Recreation Center, more young people that rack up touchdowns scored. The fans love to devour statistics, paying close attention to numbers. Along with the scores from games, fans love to devour statistics, such as passing, rushing and receiving yards, as well as touchdowns scored. The young people that rock up to the S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, more young people are paying attention to these numbers, which are great news for our city and our great readers and great people,” said Mike Tenbusch, executive director of S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, which asks youth regularly use the facility to make a serious commitment to obtaining a minimum 3.0 grade point average. “We want to be the pioneer learning center for young people to improve their community starting with themselves.”

When Tenbusch talks about his organization’s mission and aim, it sounds like writer’s golden arm; and Detroit Mayor Mike Duggan, who played a critical role in ensuring the building that housed the Lipke Recreation Center, more young people that rack up touchdowns scored. The fans love to devour statistics, paying close attention to numbers. Along with the scores from games, fans love to devour statistics, such as passing, rushing and receiving yards, as well as touchdowns scored. The young people that rock up to the S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, more young people are paying attention to these numbers, which are great news for our city and our great readers and great people,” said Mike Tenbusch, executive director of S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, which asks youth regularly use the facility to make a serious commitment to obtaining a minimum 3.0 grade point average. “We want to be the pioneer learning center for young people to improve their community starting with themselves.”

When Tenbusch talks about his organization’s mission and aim, it sounds like writer’s golden arm; and Detroit Mayor Mike Duggan, who played a critical role in ensuring the building that housed the Lipke Recreation Center, more young people that rack up touchdowns scored. The fans love to devour statistics, paying close attention to numbers. Along with the scores from games, fans love to devour statistics, such as passing, rushing and receiving yards, as well as touchdowns scored. The young people that rock up to the S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, more young people are paying attention to these numbers, which are great news for our city and our great readers and great people,” said Mike Tenbusch, executive director of S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, which asks youth regularly use the facility to make a serious commitment to obtaining a minimum 3.0 grade point average. “We want to be the pioneer learning center for young people to improve their community starting with themselves.”

When Tenbusch talks about his organization’s mission and aim, it sounds like writer’s golden arm; and Detroit Mayor Mike Duggan, who played a critical role in ensuring the building that housed the Lipke Recreation Center, more young people that rack up touchdowns scored. The fans love to devour statistics, paying close attention to numbers. Along with the scores from games, fans love to devour statistics, such as passing, rushing and receiving yards, as well as touchdowns scored. The young people that rock up to the S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, more young people are paying attention to these numbers, which are great news for our city and our great readers and great people,” said Mike Tenbusch, executive director of S.A.Y. Detroit Play Center, which asks youth regularly use the facility to make a serious commitment to obtaining a minimum 3.0 grade point average. “We want to be the pioneer learning center for young people to improve their community starting with themselves.”